*W*elcome to Port 68!

If you are new to us, you will quickly discover we embrace color, texture, and a love of pattern. From leaping cheetahs with Scalamandé to modern accent furniture, artwork, custom benches, to classic blue and white porcelain, we layer our materials, patterns and colors to create a collected look of traditional, yet modern collections in lighting, accessories and décor.

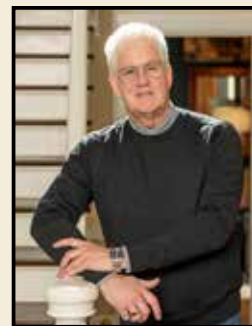

This season, we have exciting additions in our licensee collections with Scalamandré, Williamsburg and Madcap Cottage. Each has a unique point of view in design and color. From their patterns and shapes - to their historic archives, each licensee's own style tells a story. The catalog starts with them, then flows by color, pattern and finish.

I would like to point out one of our best selling collections is our Marais shelves. We added more sizes, finishes and even acrylic shelves so that you can personalize it to exactly what you may need. The look is modern, and ever so functional.

Discover all that we offer by visiting our website and our showrooms located in Atlanta, Dallas and High Point. The website will give you the most up to date assortment, product information, stock status and what is on order for future shipments.

I hope that you find many exciting designs and products for your stores and client's projects.

We thank you for your business. As always, Happy Decorating!

The collection celebrates the classic, iconic patterns of America's legendary textile House. As the industry's standard bearer of excellence since 1929, Scalamandré has been called upon by some of the most extraordinary properties from the White House, New York's Metropolitan Opera House and the Dorchester Hotel in London for decoration to name a few commissions. Working with the Scalamandré design team, we perused their curated archives for the most iconic designs for inspiration from their collection. We love designing product that has a lineage which is classic and modern.

Rich burnished metals, colorful porcelains and aged patina embellishments layer the timeless collection in lighting, accent upholstery and décor. A mélange of patterns range from Baldwin Bamboo, Chinoise Exotique, Muir Woods, Siberian Tiger, Arcadia resist, Ming Fret, Balinese Peacock, Pondicherry, Jamboree and the chic and signature Scalamandré Zebra.

Williamsburg

Making History Now: The Colonial Williamsburg Foundation

Colonial Williamsburg is the only place that takes you back in time to the dawn of America. It's the place where the idea of our country is being born; the place where the ideals we stand for as Americans are being defined. It is the 18th century "live," with over 400 structures that stood there, the trades and establishments that thrived there, the residents who lived there, and the undercurrent of revolution that led to who and where we are.

Colonial Williamsburg's collections include a group of more than a hundred 18th century book papers (probably English) that were never bound in books. One of them inspired our "Isobel" pattern that we have on this timeless lamp. As part of the Williamsburg collection for Port 68, Isobel celebrates the graphic fan pattern in green on cream hexagon shaped porcelain silhouette where "Trend meets Tradition".

The green adaptation of a classic Indian chintz resembles linen printed fabric with exotic floral and fauna. Catherine of Braganza, queen of King Charles II of England, brought Portuguese trade routes to the British East India Company, spurring fascination with such Asian goods and fabrics.

Damask, a luxurious fabric, traces its origins to ancient China and gained prominence through its association with Damascus, Syria, a hub for silk trading and weaving during the Middle Ages. Renowned for its intricate patterns woven into the fabric itself, rather than printed, damask embodies elegance and timeless craftsmanship. The original damask from which we drew inspiration is found in the Colonial Williamsburg archives. It was a swatch from a fabric decorator sampler book dating back to the mid-1800's.

Breckenridge

Breckenridge is inspired by a red Indian cotton gown worn by Ann Cary Selden Breckenridge of Botetourt County, Virginia when her husband served Congress in Washington between 1807 and 1819. The embroidered gold floral hand stitched border of the gown became our "Breckenridge" pattern

As part of the Williamsburg collection for Port 68, Breckenridge celebrates the timeless floral border. We have this pattern on a tea caddy, quatrefoil planter and modern hex shaped lamp.

Design Note:

Colonial Williamsburg's collections include a group of more than a hundred 18th century book papers (probably English) that were never bound in books. One of them inspired our "Isobel" pattern that we have on this timeless lamp. As part of the Williamsburg collection for Port 68, Isobel celebrates the graphic fan pattern in blue on cream hexagon shaped porcelain silhouette where "Trend meets Tradition".

Design Note:

The colorful blue adaptation of a classic Indian chintz resembles linen printed fabric with exotic floral and fauna. Catherine of Braganza, Queen of King Charles II of England, brought Portuguese trade routes to the British East India Company, spurring fascination with such Asian goods and fabrics.

As part of the Williamsburg collection, Braganza is a classic and colorful pattern that is produced on lighting and accessories.

MADCAP COTTAGE

John Loecke and Jason Oliver Nixon are the duo behind the North Carolina based firm Madcap Cottage. Known for their whimsical use of color and pattern, the gents—along with their posse of dogs, scour the world for eclectic finds that capture their unique and gimlet-eyed viewpoint. Imagine a British country house that pairs stunning antiques and a spirited dash of chinoiserie chic with a dash of Morocco-meets-India elan.

"If you are looking for beige and boring, bark up someone else's tree," quips Jason. "We live and breathe 'whimsy', but our projects are bespoke, sophisticated, and perfectly catered to our clients' sensibility and 'brand'. We are spectacularly livable. John and I have dogs, nieces and nephews—we get it."

Madcap Cottage has been published in InStyle, People, House Beautiful, Country Living, House & Garden UK, Architectural Digest Russia, the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal and New York magazine.
